Polderlicht Foundation, City Government Amsterdam East, 2012
4,20 x 4,20 x 3,10. Wood, LED strips

PETER VINK

Light installation built in the tower of the Borneohof. This building is located at Javaplein (Java-square) in Amsterdam. The white safety bars attached to the windows of the building were the point of inspiration for this sculpture. These patterns were extended in the top of the tower, using light.
