

Workshop 8

Swatch Art Peace Hotel, Shanghai
Iron wire, glue. 2 x 0.25 x 0.45 m.

This sculpture was made during my artist in residence project at the Swatch Art Peace Hotel, Shanghai. One wooden floor plint in the middle of the workshop was the base of the construction. I considered the lines in the wood as a blueprint. These lines were copied with use of white iron wire and repeated in height to make different layers. The height was determined by the time I could use this studio. (4 months)

The sculpture was glued on the floor and was later removed from the studio by cutting the piece out of the wooden floor.
